

UI Design Video Course 2

Mobile App Design

Let's go High Fidelity

Hello! 🙌

Thank you for purchasing our second UI course! Your support means the world to us!

To start, just log-in using your purchase email at <https://hype4.academy>.

The course will be released as four 1-hour long episodes every week starting July 8th, with a 2-week break after the first two episodes. During this break we will ask you - the first students enrolled in this course some questions to tailor the second part exactly to what the majority of designers need. We want this to be truly helpful!

For the full course outline, go to
<https://hype4.academy/ui-course-2>

This course covers high-fidelity design in mobile apps, but it's absolutely essential that you already know the basics of app design. If you finished our first Mobile App UI Course, you should be fine to continue with this one. If not, and you realize the difficulty here is a little too high, you can always get course 1 here:

Designing User Interfaces

If you want to learn even more, you can do so with our University acclaimed ebook - Designing User Interfaces with over 500 pages of materials on everything UI-design.

Use the code: 35HighFidelity to get 35% off!

Feedback

If you purchased the option “with feedback” of this course, you will be eligible for a certificate review at the end. We will reveal the way of sharing your work with us once all the course segments are completed.

If you went with “Just the course” option, you will not get feedback, but you can still fill out the survey we’ll do in the middle to suggest things that will be beneficial to learn and we will take all the suggestions into serious consideration. Promise! :)
